TAG DAY COLLECTION KEEPS ON GROWING

Children and Adults Bring Proceeds of Their Sales to Headquarters.

TRIP ON RIVER TO SWELL FUND

President Rudolph Thanks People for Their Gifts and Congratulates District.

Tag Day is not over yet, to judge by the activity at Tag Day Headquarters and the money is rolling into the office as steadily as if the stream had just begun. Pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, half dollars and alluring green-backs slid under the receiving windows in the old Metropolitan Bank building in Fifteenth street this morning and a corps of assistants to the Tag Day committee were kept as busy counting the afternoon.

More than six thousand dollars has been received by the Tag Day Committee, and indications are that by foreignt the collection still have reached $7.00s.

The fact that so much additional money came in today was proof positive that the hundreds of tax sellers did not cease their activities when the city clocks reached 5:30 last Saturday evening. They manifestly felt that there was just as much chance of collecting small change Saturday evening and the result was that several hundreds of dollars were added to the fund.

Adults and Children in Line.

Small boys and girls and grown me and women were in line at headquarters this morning enthusiastically handing in their late returns.

Please don't get these mixed with those of my committee," said one wom "These are my personal collections, and I don't want anybody else to get

Two little boys bounced into the of-fice and up to the window.

"Here's another dollar, Mister," said one of them delightedly.

"I got 85 cents." the other one chirp-ed, and the $1.85 went in to swell the big fund.

Fare Is Fifty Cents.

Hundred of persons interested in furthering the happiness of the children are preparing to join the excursion on the Jamestown tonight. The trip will be especially for the playgrounds fund. nd it is expected that between 1,500 and 1,800 persons will take the sail down the river. The Secretary of the Navy has ordered out the full Marine Band for the occasion, and a continuous musical program will be played down the river and return.

The fare tonight will be 50 cents, and not $1. The announcement that tickets would be $1 has misled many, and Arthur Moses, who is directing the arrangements for the excursion, is anxious that the people should understand the exact price of the tickets. The lamestown will pull out promptly at 7 Yelock.

President Rudolph's Yelock.

The phenomenal success of the Tag Day collections has been a source of satisfaction to those who had the arrangements in charge, and the following letter to the public of Washingto has been written by Cuno H. Rudolph president of the Washington Play counds Association: the People of Washington;

"To the People of Washington:
"Tag Day is over, and while the returns are not yet all in, and no one can estimate exactly what they will be, the indications are that the necessary minimum that we set out to raise is in hand. Whatever new funds come in from now on can be devoted to opening the new playgrounds recently acquired, and to improving existing grounds.

"The success of Tag Day was made possible by the co-operation of hundreds of loyal men and woman, and by yet more largely by the generous response and co-operation of the general public. The canvassers report that they were treated with uniform courtesy and that their requests were seldom refused. The passer-by smiled at the child as he bought his tag, and there was a real spirit of kindliness throughout the city like a second Christmastide.

"It may seem impertinent for me, as president of the Washington Playground Association to thank you, the people of Washington, for your co-operation in this day, because you are no less interested than we, in the children of the city, and this is your work no less than ours but I may at least assure you that your efforts and good will are appreciated by us all. The universal spirit of public helpfulness and sympathy of Saturday may well be a source of pride to the District.

"CUNO H. RUDOLPH," President of the Washington Playground Association."

CITY IN TERROR OF SAVAGE LIONS

Marauding Beasts Attack Stragglers From Livingston, and Kill Horses and Oxen.

LIVINGSTON, Rhodesia, June 15 .-With the advent of the dry season lions have become very daring, and have come in closer to the town than ever. While G. Thomasine, a boat builder, was out after wild duck on the Zam-besi within a mile of the Victoria Falls, three lions espied him and gave chase. He took refuge in a tree, and was ompelled to remain there all night, the ions remaining on the watch. It was not till well into the next day that he was discovered by a search party. which quickly routed the lions and released him.

Another exciting adventure befell a transport rider on the Zambesi, near Kazengula, in Northwest Rhodesia. About midnight a troop of eight lions attacked the camp, and, after killing two oxen and a horse, beside wounding five other oxen, stampeded the remainder.

The lions were only beaten off by fire, and this with considerable diffi-culty, while it took several hours to round up the frightened oxen.

The French opposition, however, will not be as strong as that which developed in England, for France has long stood as a friend of Russia and the majority of her people are anxious for the entente to be continued and strengthened.

KAISER RESCUES

BERLIN, June 15.—The presence of mind of Emperor William today saved the lives of a skiff load of people on the river Spree The imperial yacht Alexandria, with the Emperor aboard. Was threading its way along the crowded river, when a skiff, carrying several persons, attempted to cross her bow.

The Kalser was the first to see the danger which threatened the skiff and The Kaiser was the first to see the danger which threatened the skiff and he quickly telephoned the engine room to have the engines reversed and the yacht stopped. The Alexandria slowed up just in time to keep from running down the skiff.

There are many people on the river banks and in nearby boats who witnessed the affair, and they cheered the Kaiser uproarlously.

Collier's Weekly, in a recent article says: "The domestic problem is the problem of the age. Good servants for modest wages are not to be obtained." Washington has her domestic problem as well as the other cities. But the question is not so acute here. There are thousands of young women-arrivals from the old world-who are anxious to get started in this city of Golden Opportunities for working people.

These people—they are thrifty—they are wise soon learn that it is "The Times" which is read by the families for whom they want to work. They, therefore read THE TIMES for the advertisements, knowing that, sooner or later, just the kind of family they want will advertise for "help" in THE TIMES.
